I RILEM Governance in 2014 by the RILEM President, Prof. Mark Alexander

Most RILEM members will know that there have been significant changes in governance in RILEM recently. Our Director of Development since 2009, Prof Geert de Schutter, stood down at the end of January 2014 by mutual agreement, this move having been planned for the last few years. Together with this has been substantial work to ensure that the initiatives of Geert and the Standing Committees are able to come to full fruition. This has meant a change in the office arrangements of the Secretary General and in the duties of the SG, as well as re-allocated responsibilities for the Presidency. All of this has occurred while our Standing Committees (TAC, EAC, DAC, and the Board of Editors of Materials and Structures) have been working hard and expanding their activities. The consequence has been a significant increase in workload in the SG office. A new person, Marie Duplan, has recently joined the office to assist with RILEM publications. It is essential that our administration runs effectively so as to service the core functions of RILEM, the technical, educational, and publication activities. I believe that the changes we have brought about will achieve this aim.

I wish you all a very successful year!

Mark Alexander

II Reports from the Standing Committees, meeting in Brussels, 10 March 2014

During RILEM Spring Meetings, only DAC and TAC met. The other Standing Committees, EAC and BOE, do not meet usually in the Spring Meetings.

A) DAC meeting on Monday 10 March 2014

The first meeting of DAC, Development Advisory Committee, chaired by Roberto Torrent gathered together the members of DAC made up of 4 experts who were already involved in the previous MAC and of the Regional Conveners.

After a report done by the Regional Conveners for each region defined by the DAC, the 4 experts presented their activities of development:

- Doug Hooton on the possible collaboration with ASTM.
- Birgit Meng on the possible collaboration with CEN.
- Changwen Miao on the RILEM liaison with the industry.
- Shiro Nakajima on the development of the communication channels, web meetings etc....

The next meeting of DAC will be more dedicated to the activities of the Regional Conveners with the input also of the current National Delegates during a special workshop which is scheduled on Tuesday 2 September 2014, 8:30 – 11:00, in Sao Paulo, Brazil.

B) TAC meeting on Monday 10 March 2014

Several new technical committees were created during the Spring Meetings in Brussels, Belgium:

- TC AAA on Avoiding alkali aggregate reactions in concrete – Performance based concept, chaired by Børge Johannes Wigum, Cluster D.
- TC ISR on Prognosis of deterioration and loss of serviceability in structures affected by alkali-silica reactions, chaired by Victor Saouma, Cluster D.

All RILEM members interested to actively contribute to the work of these newly created committees are requested to contact the RILEM secretariat. Further, any RILEM member may propose the formation of a new technical committee, on the required Form (TAC-N10 Proposal for a new RILEM Technical Committee). 34 technical committees are currently active. A complete list of all active RILEM technical committees can be found on the RILEM website:

III Upcoming RILEM Weeks

68th RILEM Annual Week 2014 in Sao Paulo, Brazil

You can register for the XIII DBMC - XIII International Conference on Durability of Building Materials and Components at the following address: <http://www.dbmc2014.org/>

This Conference and the RILEM Annual Week will take place at the Milenium Convention Center (Doutor Bacelar Street, 1043, São Paulo SP, Brazil).

A special invitation to the 68th RILEM Annual Week will be sent to the RILEM members and RILEM officers at the end of April.

Information will be provided on

- RILEM Technical Committees meetings in Sao Paulo
- Standing Committees, Board of Editors, DAC, EAC and TAC (for TAC each Technical Committee Chair or TC Secretary is invited to this meeting).

- General Council (each RILEM Member is able to attend and vote during the GC)
- Bureau

70th RILEM Annual Week 2016 in Lyngby, Denmark

The agreement between RILEM and DTU has been signed last month.

The draft Programme of this RILEM week is very attractive.

IV The RILEM Strategic Workshop in Brussels, 10-11 March 2014

Some participants of the RILEM Strategic Brussels Workshop.

The Strategic RILEM workshop, co-organised by the Belgian Building Research Institute, the Universities of Ghent and Liege and the Royal Military Academy, has taken place at the Royal Military Academy offering a splendid setting close to the European Quarter in Brussels. Being on the Military School Grounds allowed RILEM members to observe the raising of the flag very early in the morning. RILEM is much indebted to Prof. Johnny Vantomme of the Royal Military Academy for hosting our meetings and making the Workshop a pleasurable occasion.

The workshop gathered together 84 participants on two half days and took place in a very cordial but also studious atmosphere. A keynote lecture of Mrs Inge Van Nieuwerburgh from the library of the Ghent University set the scene for discussion on the importance of Open Access Publication in different parallel sessions. The lecture of Mrs Inge Van Nieuwerburgh can be consulted on line on YouTube at <http://youtu.be/yvkR-lxjFFw>. After the first half day, a dinner was organised in the Auto World Museum where all participants were able to admire the vintage cars of all ages.

On the second half day the discussions were concluded and a very interesting keynote lecture on the Burj Khalifa, a symbol of international co-operation, was presented by Prof. Luc Maertens <http://youtu.be/Db9z6MvCVw>

Subsequently, the reporters of each parallel session presented the summary of reflections in their Groups.

During the concluding session, Johan Vyncke, Vice-President and organiser of the strategic workshop, thanked all participants and noted that the event stimulated a lot of debates and new ideas for the future of the association. A full report on the outcome of the workshop will be made available soon.

Pictures from the event can be downloaded below and copies of the presentations obtained from the General Secretariat.

V 2014 Robert L'Hermite Medalist

The Jury for the 2014 Robert L'Hermite Medal composed of Prof. Ravindra Gettu (Jury President and Chair of the RILEM Technical Activities Committee), Prof. Jason Weiss (Editor in Chief of the journal Materials and Structures), Prof. Barzin Mobasher and Prof. Kefei Li examined the list of authors who met the criteria for the award, being under 40 years of age in 2013 and having performed high level scientific research in the field of 'Building Materials and Structures', and published at least one original paper in an international scientific journal, preferably the RILEM journal Materials and Structures during the last two years, in general as main contributor.

Alexandra Bertron has been selected for this award: "She stood out due to her consistent research output, active participation and leadership in RILEM, international exchanges and the high quality of her work."

She will present her lecture 'Understanding interactions between cementitious materials, microorganisms and organic compounds: a key to sustainable and safe concrete structures in various contexts' during the 68th RILEM Annual Week in Sao Paulo, Brazil, on Wednesday 4 September 2014, at the opening session of the conference DBMC 13.

VI Election of the next RILEM Vice-President

The election of the new RILEM Vice President will occur during the General Council in September 2015, in Melbourne, Australia.

The process for the election requires a Recommending Committee composed of 4 persons, including the Outgoing President, to be set up by online voting of all RILEM members from a list of nominees.

The Recommending Committee will submit then its proposals for Vice President to the Bureau by the latest March 2015.

The 10 following nominees for the Recommending Committee have been proposed on 8 April 2014 on the Online voting:

- Dr. Carmen Andrade (Spain)
- Prof. Dr.-Ing. Wolfgang Brameshuber (Germany)
- Prof. Dr. Ir. Geert De Schutter (Belgium)
- Prof. Dr. Vyatcheslav Falikman (Russia)
- Prof. Konstantin Kovler (Israel)
- Prof. Paulo Lourenço (Portugal)
- Dr. Birgit Meng (Germany)
- Prof. Manfred Partl (Switzerland)
- Prof. Karen Scrivener (Switzerland)
- Dr. Roberto Torrent (Argentina)

We thank in advance all RILEM Members for their vote.

Please note the following deadline for the online voting: 30 April 2014.
